FEED BABY ON MILK IS ADVICE GIVEN

Health Officer Foulks Says Milk Is More Nutritious Than Other Food

CAUSE OF ILLNESS

Says Milk Being Supplied Alexandria Soon to Compare Favorably With Any in This Country.

Among the many letters being daily sent to Health officer Louis E. Foulks he has selected the following as asking a question of general public interest.

"I have three children ranging from three to seven years of age, but they don't seem to thrive as they should. Would you kindly advise me what would be the most suitable food to give them as a principal diet and which would contain the most nourishment for the money expended. I am poor and cannot afford much meat at the present high prices."

I could fully answer this important question with just one word—Milk! However, I will go into the matter more deeply and give my reasons for such a statement.

Milk is one of the oldest foods adopted by the human family, of which we have any mention of in our records of ancient history. The inscription on a Chaldean tablet, thousands of years old, says—"Milk doth benefit the body; strength and power does it give."

Isaiah says—'Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat; yea, come buy wine and milk without money and without price."

While it is true our modern milkmen demand a price, yet when you consider the food value of milk, even with meat, eggs and other standard foods, he is giving you more for your money than you can obtain by any other purchase. For a child, no other food is as necessary and important as milk. During the early period of its life, its existence depends upon this food alone, and all must admit that it answers every requirement of nature giving life, health and strength. The growing baby requires food elements to form bone, muscle, tissue and blood and milk is the only food known that contains all of the required elements in a concentrated and easily digestible form. This being an undisputed fact, it is not hard to understand why milk should be an important part of the food given a growing child of any age. It is true that as the baby grows older, teeth form and its organs of digestion develop, so it can consume and actually requires some more solid forms of food, yet the food value of milk remains the same as the baby passes into childhood and on even to adult life.

Most of the ills of childhood—excepting contagious diseases — are caused by digestive troubles from improper food. It must be remembered that man is not by nature a carnivorous animal, for that is plainly indicated by his teeth, hence meat is neither indicated or necessary to his healthful existence. And unless he leads an active life, the consumption of much meat throws a heavy burden upon the organs of digestion and elimination and trouble sooner or later results.

It must be understood, however, that an adult is much better able to meet this extra and unnatural demand upon his fully developed and matured internal organs, than a half grown child. Hence it is plain to be seen that child should be given only such food as will not in any way overtax its powers of digestion, assimulation and elimination. Milk meets all these requirements and at the same time does not cost more than half as much as any other article or combination of articles having the same food value. For instance, one quart of milk is equal in general food value to 2 pounds of chicken, or three pounds of fresh codfish, or eight eggs, or two pounds of potatoes, or one pound of lean beef, or five pounds of turnips, or one-third pound of wheat flour or four pounds of cabbage. This you must understand is only a rough comparison, as none of these articles alone contain all the food elements of milk, so when we compare it with any other single article of food, we are not doing it full justice.

In speaking of milk, it should be kept in mind that I, at all times mean fresh, pure and clean milk. Dirty milk has killed far more people than bullets! it is the finest and most perfect human food known if pure and clean, the most dangerous and deadly if infected or dirty.

The dairy farms supplying milk to Alexandria are under the regulation and inspection of the Health Department and weekly tests of the milk made in our laboratory, and I am free to state that the supply is now reasonably good. As mentioned in a recent article, we wil shortly have a pasteurizing plant located in the heart of the city, and I am now pleased to announce that another plant, just outside the city, is almost finished and is expected to be in operation within a few weeks at most. The ownear of this new plant has one of the best dairy farms supplying milk to this city, and we are pleased to note that he is thus doing his best to bring it right up to date.

I think the people of Alexandria wil be excused if they manifest a certain degree of pride in the fact that our milk supply will soon compare favoraby with that of any city in this country. I again state the fact, that good, clean milk is not only the best but also the cheapest and safest food for children at all times of the year

REPORT MADE ON ASSESSMENT PLAN

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

Matter Discussed Before Civic Bureau of Chamber of Commerce at Special Meeting Last Night.

A called meeting of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce was held last night at which meeting the Board of Directors were invited to be present to hear the discussion concerning a new plan of assessing taxes for this city.

A committee of the civic bureau was appointed some time ago to investigate and ascertain the most equitable form of assessment, with the result that James Bayne, chairman of the committee, has given several months of study to this important subject, and last night delivered a most instructive and interesting address in explaining the proposed form of assessment and inequity and inefficiency of the present method, It was listened to very closely by all present. The data accummulated and the exhibits made shows long hours spent in its preparation and the Chamber of Commerce and the city generally are to be congratulated that they have such members who are willing to sacrifice time and energy in furthering the interests and welfare of the city, and it is hoped by the Chamber of Commerce the City Council will at the earliest opportunity take steps to put into operation a plan that will be fair and equitable to all property owners.

BETHLEHEM PLANT LITTLE AFFECTED

FEW MEN LEAVE WORK

Police Department Fully Equipped to Handle Situation—Many Additional Officers Sworn In.

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 30.—The Bethlehem plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation was very little affected yesterday morning by the strike which had been called from Pittsburgh, and there was no semblance of disorder at the entrances to the various plants when the shifts changed at 6 a. m. and again at 7.30 o'clock.

Virtually the same number of employees appeared in the various departments as worked last week, save a number of machinists left wit their tools. The latter were said by the Company officials to be mostly of the floating order, who had been employed during the war.

Mayor Johnston, who issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens to be law-abiding and to assist in the maintenance of peace, was upon the scene early. He will not permit gatherings of any kind.

The police department is well equipped to cope with the situation should any trouble arise, as many additional officers have been sworn in.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30.—The show down came yesterday in the steel strike and on the face of it the strikers lost, compuratively few men quit work, and their loss to the mills was more than offset by the number who returned to the shops.

Light is to be thrown upon the mill owners' side of the controversy, it was learned yesterday, by the appearance of Judge Gary before the Senate committee investigating the steel strike, at Washington on Wednesday. Judge Gary, who is in New York, will leave tomorrow for Washington, it was said. He is expected to offer testimony in refutation of the allegations that the strike was precipitated by brutal treatment of workers discovered by labor leaders who visited Pittsburgh in a futile effort to until after the labor conference at Washington on October 6.

The situation from now on bids fair to drag to a slow conclusion with production seriously hampered in the district, but without any likelihood of the unions developing sufficient strength to force the operators to terms. The failure of the union to close the mills of the Bethlehem Steel Company today gave strong backing to this belief.

Unprejudiced observers, familiar with conditions in the industry, look for victory for the mill owners as a certainty, with slight concession made to the workers at the end. But on the main issue, recognition of the unions, the companies have won the fight along the line. Violence was virtually absent today.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Lula Massey, who died September 30, 1918.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love had given
And though the body slumbers here
The soul is safe in heaven.

ORDINATION SERVICE

Deacons at Second Baptist Church Will be Ordained Tonight

At eight o'clock tonight there will be several deacons ordained at the Second Baptist Church.

Rev. E. Hez Swem, of Centennial Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will reach the ordaining sermon, and Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson of the First Baptist Church, this city, will deliver the address or charge to the church and deacons elect. Rev. Willis Wayt, of Del Ray Baptist Church, has been asked to offer the ordaining prayer.

It is hoped that a large representation of the membership of the church and friends will be present.

This young church is entering enthusiastically into the Baptist big drive for $75,000,000, and has been apportioned the large sum of $6,555.21, and has adopted unanimous resolutions accepting this apportionment.

Last week witnessed great enthusiasm in a week of prayer. Every night the church was open and well attended. The congregations are increasing, notwithstanding the many calls of the pastor out of town in evangelistic meetings, necessitating absence from the work here.

CURTAIN GOES DOWN ON W. C. C. S. WORK

Review of Splendid Work Accomplished During World War

HELP TO SOLDIERS

Alexandria Will Go Down in History of Having Performed Her Share of Work in National Crisis.

With tonight, the Elks building as well as the buildings that have been occupied by the local colored activities will close upon Alexandria War Camp Community Service and we shall say in the language of the poet: "The lights are out and gone are all the guests."

Thousands have written letters home bearing the Alexandria, Va., postmark; enjoyed the billiards and other games; been served at the canteen to sods, cigars, cigarettes, candies and chewing gum; have eaten the wonderful and appetizing meals prepared by the good women of our city; enjoyed the feminine uplifting influences and sweet chaste compansionship of the young ladies who were untiring and most successful in their efforts to make life enjoyable for the enlisted men within our gates, at the numerous dances, parties and functions provided under decorous and proper chaperonage, for their benefit.

And too, thousands of these men have enjoyed the priviledge of the dormitory here as well as those provided by the Saint Paul's church and the Lyecum building and have made good use of the cots, blankets, mattresses and sheets in many a comfortable nights' rest. Many of the men having visited other communities, paid Alexandria the tribute of standing first among them all in their estimation of sheer hospitality and real home like proyidence. To list those who have stood out more prominently of our citizens in this good and wholesome work would be doing some an injustice as every Alexandria citizen entertained a sincere, co-operative attitude though they did not all have an opportunity to just lend a hand, and when we say that our churches, the secret orders and benevolent and patriotic societies all strove to do their several parts, it will hardly leave one citizen unaccounted for in the great work.

Thus Alexandria will go down in history as having performed well her share in the work of the great world war under the banner, "War Camp Community Service." Why then, should not the community service phase of this big work be perpetuated? There is a national headquarters in New York which will be maintained to assist any and every community at any time with trained men and women to make the work flourish and succeed to the best possible interests of the community concerned.

As the curtain falls on Alexandria War Camp Community Service—a work well and successfully accomplished,— may it rise on a work full of merit and ever increasing promise and an onward trend of progress— Alexandria Community Service.

DOUBLE KILLING

Tazewell, Va., Sept. 30.—News of a shooting of a man and woman fatally, on Whitakers Ridge, reached town on Wednesday morning, by a young man named Whitaker. Commonwealth's Attorney Harman was notified of the killing, and that Whitaker was under arrest and would have a hearing at Cedar Bluff

It appears that Whitaker shot and killed a woman named Nelson and Bill Whitt, a man. What the trouble was about was not stated in the phone message. Whitaker Ridge is on the north side of the county, near the West Virginia line, and is known as the seat of a number of moonshine still houses, which have given the officers much trouble.

CAPT. GEORGE YOUNG DIES SUDDENLY

Retired Merchant and Seafaring Resident Answers Last Roll Call

MANY YEARS AT SEA

For Thirty Years Was Leading Tobacconist Here—Funeral at 4 P. M. Thursday.

Capt. George Young, sixty-eight years old, a well known resident died suddenly at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence, 313 South Washington street. The deceased had been in declining health for some time past, although he was able to be about and his death was wholly unexpected. Capt. Young was unmarried, and is survived by a sister, Mrs. Annie Jackson, who resided with him.

For many years Capt. Young was a seafaring man and later engaged in the cigar and tobacco business in this city which he conducted for thirty years, retiring from active participation in business affairs in November 1917.

The deceased first went to sea on sailing vessels and later became captain of the John S. Gibson and E. C. Knight and operated between New York, London and Liverpool and afterward between New York and Washington.

When a youth he was a printer on a paper operated by "Extra Governor" Billy Smith. Capt. Young first went to sea in 1862.

Capt. Young arrived from a sea trip the day after Lincoln was assassinated, having just come in from New York. He was stopped in this city by the provost marshal who remarked to him "Do you know our President was killed last night?" Capt. Young, then only a boy, remarked, "that he did not whereupon he was taken in custody and carried to the old "Slave Pen" and he often told how he spent a number of uncomfortable hours until his father obtained his release that night. At the time the federal troops were picking up all strangers.

Capt. Young's cigar store, as it was known, under old Sarepta Hall on the north side of King between Royal and Pitt streets, for more than a quarter of a century was the headquarters for some of the leading citizens who nightly gathered at his place and its closing two years ago, marked the last of one of the old landmarkss of the city and was greatly missed by his many friends.

His funeral will take place at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon from his late residence. Services will be conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace P. E. Church. Members of Andrew Jackson Lodge of Masons of which the deceased was a member will attend.

HAPPENINGS ABOUT CITY TOLD IN BRIEF

The Ladies Social Union will meet tonight at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church.

P. W. Harvey has sold to Norman C. Lanham and wife a house and lot on the south side of Wythe between Washington and Columbus streets. H. Hayden Henderson and wife have sold to Robert W. Cline house and lot 108 Commerce Street.

Miss Catherine Pullman and Miss Marion Blunt have just returned from Lexington, Va., where they attended the V. M. I. Hops. Miss Pullman was the guest of Cadet G. S. Rice, and Miss Blunt was the guest of J. Kilmer, of Mobile, Ala.

A change in the Alexandria Library hours. Beginning with October 1st, the morning hours will be discontinued, and substituted by the afternoon hours every, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m.

A special grand jury will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Corporation Court, Judge L. C. Barley presiding. It is expected that a number of indictments will be presented. This is the same jury that convened in this court September 9.

The funeral of Mary V. Wayright, six years old, who was fatally burned last Saturday, took place this morning from her parents residence, 2719 Duke street, and services were conducted by Rev. Dr. T. A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary. Burial was in Bethel cemetery.

Residents of Seminary Hill are loud in their complaint regarding the recklessness of automobilists in that neighborhood and it has been determined to ascertain the car numbers of the joy riders and also the numbers of machines not carrying proper lights and have the drivers hrailed into court in Fairfax county. Many persons recently have had narrow escapes from being killed due to these joy speeders.

"GOD WITH US."

During the late war the Germans were obsessed with the notion that the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob was going before their armies and blessing them while they devastated Belgium and northern France. The execution of Edith Cavall and Captain Fryatt were supposed to be pleasing to the deity.

Jupiter Tonans, however, seems to have had little respect for Teuton dreams. It has become known only recently that the huge statue of Germania which stands in the public square in Strasburg commemorating the victory of the Prussians in 1870, and the foundation of the empire of the Hohenzollerns, was shattered by lightning in August, 1918, when the Allied armies were driving the Germans before them all along the western front. The stroke of lightning, now regarded as symbolic of the approaching fate of the German armies, caused consternation among the superstitious Germans, and their authorities at Strasburg decreed that absolute silence be kept regarding it. No one was allowed to see the monument thereafter except workmen who were at once employed to repair it. The lightning struck the sword which Germania brandishes toward heaven. The imperial eagle was damaged and the angel of war, which stands at the foot of the statue was wrecked.

MOB LAWLESSNESS

There has long been a standing indictment against the Southern States because a negro's assault upon a white woman there almost invariably followed by a lynching. "But," as the Baltimore News says, "Nebraska is not a Southern State, and the mob which ran riot in Omaha showed itself far more brutal, infinitely more dangerous, than any of recent years in any section of the country. The city's new courthouse was set afire, and it was no fault of the mob that hundreds did not perish in the flames. The Mayor of the city was seriously injured when an attempt to lynch him followed his appeal to the mob to disperse Men were beaten and shot; property was damaged.

"This sort of culmination of unrest is extremely dangerous, not only to the sphere immediately affected but to the whole country. The moral, if there be one, is that State and municipal authorities should bear in mind that the times are abnormal and be vigilant and firm in the maintenance of order. "Mob psychology" is dangerous when it starts running amuck. The time to put a damper on it is before it flares up. There is considerable reason to believe that a good part of the troubel is that police departments let unruly crowds get out of hand when a show of firmness would disperse them and avert danger."

THE EFFICACY OF PRAYER

A correspondent of a Richmond paper recently said:

"I listened to a very interesting controversy the other day in regard to the efficacy of prayer. One man maintained that there never was any direct answer to prayer; that he who prayed talked to a blank stone wall, and that no answer ever came back, save that of echo or retroaction. The other held that the Great Spirit that presides over the destinies of the universe does, in some way, listen to the individual prayers of his creatures, and that he sometimes answers them, although not perhaps in the form and way prayed for, but for the better benefit of his suppliant."

One of the most spiritual and suggestive books we ever read is a volume entitled "The Power of the Book of Psalms." The author shows that the greatest men of the world have drawn their inspiration from the one hundred and fifty psalms, which are, in the main, prayers.

The first thirteen are earnest supplications for immediate aid, at a time when the thoughtless and scoffing, enjoying blessings which they are abusing, are disposed to taunt the man who confides in his Creator. Realizing the fact that invocations have entered into the ears of the God of Sabaoth, the psalmist breaks out in the fourteenth selection with the words: "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God."

As suggested above, prayers are not always answered in our way, but in a manner best suited to our condition and in accordance with the will of heaven. Besides it seems that our requests pass through the hands of a divine censor. Listen!

"The spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the spirit because he maketh intercession, according to the will of God."

PUBLIC SENTIMENT AND THE STRIKE

From Allentown, Bethlehem and other places in that district comes the report that public sentiment is very strongly against the strike at the Bethlehem Steel Works.

As a contemporary says, "it is not hard to believe this, because people of that section are conservative and in the mood for reconstruction rather than industrial turmoil. But there is another reason, and it is that many of those who have been foremost in fomenting this trouble have dubious war records. It is recalled that there was a spasmodic strike of a certain number of the men during the war—a strike that threatened to interfere with the speedy filling of munition orders. The patriotic people of the Bethlehem held a public meeting at which they demanded that those who refuse to stay at work making the munitions of war be drafted into the army to help do the fighting. The effect was electrical. These men who were making eight dollars a day in the mills talked at the notion of fighting for civilization for a dollar a day, and the strike quickly ended. If, as alleged, the agitators of that period engineered the strike of today it is not hard to understand why it is unpoular with the thrifty, hard working population of the Lehigh Valley."

SERVICE MEN AS POLICE

An echo of the policemen's strike in Boston comes in the announcement that service men are applying for positions on the force and that quite a number have already been appointed and have been sworn in for duty. Soldiers, sailors and marines have answered the advertisement of the Police Commissioner, and have shown an eager desire to go on the force. Under the law these men are entitled to preference and thir discharge papers are accepted as evidence of their availability. They are given non-competitive examinations by the Civil Service Commission, and then placed upon the list of eligibles. On account of the vacancies caused by the strike many positions have been open, and as a consequence all who pass the needed tests are quickly appointed.

Not the least gratifying part of the business is the fact that the men have a sense of patriotism and loyalty that is peculiarly required in the work of guarding a great city. Their oath of office means something to them. Moreover, men who attacked the Hindenburg line fearlessly are not likely to be seared by burglars and criminals.—(Philadelphia Inquirer.

PLOTTER SENTENCED

"Count" Louden Gets Three Years For Attempted Forgery."

New York, Sept. 30.—"Count" Max Lynar Louden, a former German agent, who included among his exploits a plot to kidnap President Wilson and invade Canada with 150,000 German reservatists, was sentenced to three years in Sing Sing prison yesterday for attempted forgery. The "count" was recently released from the same prison, where he spent his time since April 1916, serving an indeterminate sentence for bigamy.

When he was not engaged on his plot to invade Canada, Louden occupied himself with promoting a company to manufacture an "unsinkable" ship he claimed to have invented. He succeeded in interesting several financiers in this project, among them William Bernard, president of the International Salt Company and director of the Irving National Bank. Later Mr. Bernard swore out a warrant for his arrest after he learned that Louden was trying to influence other financers by exhibiting a check for $10,000 to which he had signed the banker's name.

Louden was always a "count" during his American career, but the remainder of his name changed as fancy or circumstances dictated. He was successively known as Count Albert Mariel De Passy, Count Gebhard von Blucher and Count Chimang.

LABOR INVITES COMPACT

Atlantic City, Sept. 30.—New Jersey is to take the lead among the States in a campaign to bring capital and labor together. For the first time in the history of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor, manufacturers and large employers of labor have been invited to address the annual convention of the organization, which begins here yesterday.

Announcement of the program to employers and workmen to aoid future troubles was made by Federation executives. There will be more than 400 delegates present.

There is considerable agitation for resolutions scoring prohibition, and a definite stand against the dry bill is expected.

When the Loyal Order of Moose was organized in 1886 it was purely a fraternal order, interested only in its members' health and welfare. It was a noble spirit in those days and well worthy of praise.

In 1906 the Moose passed through the reconstruction period. It emerged from this trying time with new ideals, new strength and a new ability to accomplish greater deeds. It was at that time that James J. Davis of Pittsburgh was appointed Director General of the Order, which was composed of only 264 men.

Today, thirteen years later, the Order is composed of 725,332 members, and 1,635 lodges. The lodges of the Order pay both disability benefits and funeral expenses. Besides that, every Moose is entitled to the service rendered by Mooseheart if it is needed. The Moose is by far the most advanced fraternity, for it does what no other Order has attempted. It provides for the fatherless children of its members.

You have a chance to join this great Order now while the charter is open and the fee is $6. When the charter closes the fee will be $20.00.

Encouraging Bolshevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages bolshevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil.)

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

Callus? "Gets-It" Will Peel It Off!

Nothing on Earth Like Simple "Gets-It" for Corns or Calluses.

A callus, or thickened skin on the sole of the foot, which often makes walking a misery is of the same nature as a corn. "Gets-It"

Use "Gets-It" and Dance, Even with Corns removes it as easily as it does the cousinest corns. By using a few drops of "Gets-It" on the callus, you will be able to peel it off with your fingers, in one complete piece just as you would a banana peel. It leaves the skin free and smooth as though you never had a callus. You need no more fussy plasters, sticky pads, "packages" bandages, knives or scissors for corns or calluses. "Gets-It," is the national corn remover, the biggest on earth, used by millions. It never fails. You'll work, play and dance at ease in spite of corns.

GOT THE WRONG WOMAN

Lodging House Keeper Was Too Many for Would be Assailant

Chester, Pa. Sept. 30.—After breaking loose from Peter George, whom she alleges attacked her while she was showing him some rooms she had to let yesterday morning, Mrs. Anna Kushnare, 26 years old, chased George out of her house and up the street, screaming at the top of her voice, "Stop him; stop him!"

Buscher, a mounted policeman, arrested George, who was held without bail by Alderman Melville.

According to the story told by Mrs. Kushman, George called at her home, on West Graham street, and asked if she had any furnished rooms for rent. When she replied in the affirmative George asked to be shown the rooms, and it was while Mrs. Kushman was conducting her prospective lodger through the upper floors that the alleged attack was made

FAVOR LEAGUE

Methodist Clergymen of Richmond Clergy Commends Wilson's Course

Richmond, Va., Sept. 0.—Resolutions endorsing the league of nations and urging its ratification by the United States Senate were adopted yesterday by Methodist ministers o Richmond and vicinity representing a constituency of 120,00$.

The resolutions were offered by the Rev. Mr. Gilby C. Kelly and commend President Wilson's course in behalf of world peace, contending that approval of the league covenant is the proper course for this country to take. Several of the ministers expressed it as their opinion that a majority of the people of America favor the ratification of both the peace treaty and the league of nations.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Methodist ministers of Nashville, representing 25 churches, yesterday wired Senators John K. Shields and Kenneth McKellar urging them to use their influence for the ratification of the league of nations and the treaty of peace without amendment, expressing the belief that defeat or serious amendment of the treaty would be an unspeakable calamity.

RUSSIA TRADE "OUTLAW"

Restrictions Affecting All Other Countries Removed

Washington, Sept. 30.—Russia alone of all the nations of the world is "outlawed" to American trade under new regulations issued last night by the War Trade Board section of the State Department.

Trading with exception of certain articles may now be carried on with Turkey, Hungary, Bulgaria and Austria without individual export licenses. Trading in arms, munitions and explosives is prohibited without license to China, and the exportation of wh and wheat flour still remains in the hands of the Wheat Director.

With yesterdays regulations restrictions, on American trading which were promulgated during the war are almost completely removed.

WHO OWNS GERMAN SHIPS

Delivery of Craft to Great Britain Saturday Fails to Take Place

Washington, ept. 30.—The acute question of who owns the nine ships, including the Imperator, taken from Germany and recently used by the War Departments as transports must be decided by the peace conference.

These ships were to be delivered to Great Britain yesterday, but the Shipping Board suddenly held up the delivery, under the claim that they are for the present at least the property of the United States.

Officials of all departments concerned say there are questions of fact involved, and also the question of whether Great Britain is living up to the tentative agreement by which the ships were turned over to the United States. It is thought that Colonel House, General Bliss and ex-Ambassador White, American representatives at Paris, will be able to throw considerable light on the situation and show the British delegates that turning the vessels over at this time to Great Britain would be a considerable step in advance of the agreements and understandings between the two nations.

ONE DIES, TWO INJURED

Army Auto Truck Overturns When Weight is Shifted

One man was killed and two seriously injured yesterday at 3:15 p. m., when an army truck, driven by William Washington, 247 Third St., Southwest, Washington, and loaded with a lathe, weighing 8,000 pounds, turned over at the corner of New York and New Jersey Avenue, northwest.

Joseph Bartin, colored, was instantly killed, the lathe falling directly on him. His body was removed to the morgue.

The truck was en route to the Washington barracks, and in turning the corner, forced the weight of the lathe to one side, causing the automobile to turn over.

Two other negroes, Dewey Buchanan and Marion Mason, were sent to Casualty Hospital, each with a fractured leg.

All of the men were helpers on the truck.

IDENTIFIES MURDERER

Miss Peters Says Strawther Killed Her Father—Stolen Bonds Found

Wright Strawther, alias George Cummings, negro, held in the murdering of George Peters, August 17, on the latter's farm at Jericho Park, Md., and the assailant of Miss Katherine Peters, a daughter, was definitely identified by Miss Peters in the jail at Baltimore yesterday as the man who shot her seven times. This she was unable to do several weeks ago when confronted by Strawther, while she still was in Emergency Hospital.

Coincidentally, Washington detectives with the aid of the mother in law and wife of Strawther unstitched from a seam of the trousers he wore the day of the murder one of the three liberty bonds stolen from the Peters' farmhouse. It is a $50 bond of the fourth issue, No. 132443456.

Strawther has been charged with murder.

ALBERT TO TOUR FIRST

President Will Not Be Able to Receive Belgian Ruler Upon Arrival This Week.

Washington, Sept. 30.—President Wilson will not receive King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium at the White House until they return from a tour of the United States, it was learned definitely yesterday at the White House.

The State Department had expected to make public yesterday plans for the entertainment of the royal party in this country, but the announcement was withheld because of the change in the original arrangement, under which King Albert would have come to Washington first to be the guest of President Wilson at the White House.

The King and Queen are expected to arrive in New York Friday. Their tour of the country will last several weeks, and at its conclusion they will visit this city, to be received by the President and the Senate. Arrangements for the reception of the King by the Senate Saturday were canceled today after the announcement from the White House that the condition of the resident's health would not permit him to receive the royal visitors upon their arrival in the United tates. Boston will be the first city to be visited by King Albert and Queen Elizabeth when they leave New York this week on a tour of the United States. They will be in Boston next Sunday, it was said here yesterday.

MOB SHOOTS NEGROES

Men Taken From Officers Accused of Assaulting White Women

Montgomery, Ala, Sept. 30.—Two negroes, Miles Phifer and Robert Croskey, the latter a discharged soldier, were taken from county officials about five miles from Montgomery late yesterday and shot to death by a mob of about 25 masked men. Both negroes were charged with having assaulted white women.

The two negroes were being taken to the State prison at Wetumpka when the mob held up the automobile carrying them. The mob forced the county officials to surrender their arms, led the negroes into a wood and opened fire on them with shotguns and pistols.

STEAMSHIP IMPERATOR

No Comment on Refusal of U. S. to Turn Boat Over

London, Sept. 30.—The Ministry of Shipping declined to say yesterday what action, if any, it would make regarding the United States Shipping Board's refusal to turn over the former German liner Imperaotr to the Cunard Line. The Ministry yesterday informed the Foreign Office that it did not wish to state its position or to comment in any way on it at this time. It is understood the Foreign Office is holding the matter in abeyance until the Ministry is in a position to take it up.

The railroad strike threw the ministry's system out of gear, and its entire attention is being given over to combating the effects of the strike. It has been learned, however, that the United States Shipping Board's announcement with regard to the Imperator came as a surprise to the officials of the ministry and that it is likely to upset the plans they had for putting the Imperator into service.

Owing to the pressure arising from the strike, the newspapers have made on comment on the decision of the Shipping Board. Heretofore the British have maintained that the German ships seized by the United States should be turned over to the Allies on the basis of proportional losses. The recent announcement that Great Britain would get the Imperator and other German vessels was eagerly welcomed.

TRIED TO SAVE BOY'S LIFE

Six Year Old Dies of Burns Received While Playing Jack-o'-Lanterns

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 30.—Joseph, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. McCall, of Columbia, died yesterday from burns received while playing with two Jack o'Lanterns. He had lighted a candle inserted in a hollow pumpkins and the blaze ignited his blouse.

The boy screamed for help and his mother was in the act of smothering the flames with a rug when she swooned. Running into the yard, the fire was fanned into greater intensity.

With his bare hand Harry Smith ripped off the boy's clothing and sustained severe burns. The child lingered twelve hours.

FACING WATER SHORTAGE

Harrisonburg, Sept. 30.—From reports coming from down the Valley, the people living at Woodstock, Edinburg, and Mount Jackson are facng a real water shortage. So serious is this shortage that these towns are said to not have enough water for domestic use, In Woodstock enough water is not available for the manufacture of ice.

In an effort to relieve the situation, the Strasburg town council has consulted engineers.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1918, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 32 of article 2 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate, the house of delegates concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section thirty-two, which is in the following words:

Sec. 32. Every person qualified to vote shall be eligible to any office of the State, or of any county, city, town or other subdivision of the State, wherein he resides, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, and except that this provision as to residence shall not apply to any office elective by the people where the law provides otherwise. Men and women eighteen years of age shall be eligible to the office of notary public, and qualified to execute the bonds required of them in that capacity.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 32. Every person qualified to vote shall be eligible to any office of the State, or of any county, city, town or other subdivision of the State, wherein he resides, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, and except that this provision as to residence shall not apply to any office elective by the people where the law provides otherwise; and except, further, that the requirements of this section as to residence and voting qualifications shall not apply in the appointment of persons to fill positions under a municipal government requiring special technical or professional training and experience. Men and women eighteen years of age shall be eligible to the office of notary public and qualified to execute the bonds required of them in that capacity.

Resolved by the senate, the house of delegates concurring, (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-eight, which is in the following words:

Section 138. The general assembly may, in its discretion provide for the compulsory education of children between the ages of eight and twelve years, except such as are weak in body or mind, or can read and write, or are attending private schools, or are excused for cause by the district school trustees.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 138. The general assembly may, in its discretion, provide for the compulsory education of children of school age.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article, shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act, (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution) provide for the organization and government of cities and towns without regard to, and unaffected by any of the provisions of this article, except those of sections one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five (except so far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-five recognize the office of mayor and the power of veto) one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven and one hundred and twenty-eight of this article, and except those mentioned in sub-section (d) of this section. The term "council" as used in any of said sections shall include the body exercising legislative authority for the city or town, and all ordinances enacted and resolutions adopted by such body shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as if enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective, and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 133 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (the majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to section one hundred and thirty-three, article nine, of the Constitution of Virginia, be and is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly at the first regular session held after the next general election of members of the house of delegates for its concurrence in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-three of article nine, which is in the following words:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be not more than three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

Men and women may serve as school trustees in said districts, and in cities and in towns forming separate school districts.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing) That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and eighty-four, which is in the following words:

Section 184. No debt shall be contracted by the State except to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion, or defend the State in time of war. No scrip, certificate, or other evidence of State indebtedness, shall be issued, except for the transfer or redemption of stock previously issued, or for such debts as are expressly authorized in this Constitution.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 184. No debt shall be contracted by the State except to construct or reconstruct public roads, to meet casual deficits in the revenue, to redeem a previous liability of the State, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion, or defend the State in time of war. No scrip, certificate, or other evidence of State indebtedness, shall be issued except for the transfer or redemption of stock previously issued, or for such debts as are expressly authorized in this Constitution.

A RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 136 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next session of the general assembly.

Resolved by the house of delegates, the senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed, and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six, of article fifteen, of the said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-six, which is in the following words:

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate five mills on the dollar in any one year, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided, that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 136. Each county, city, town, if the same be a separate school district, and school district is authorized to raise additional sums by a tax on property, not to exceed in the aggregate in any one year a rate of levy to be fixed by law, to be apportioned and expended by the local school authorities of said counties, cities, towns and districts in establishing and maintaining such schools as in their judgment the public welfare may require; provided that such primary schools as may be established in any school year, shall be maintained at least four months of that school year, before any part of the fund assessed and collected may be devoted to the establishment of schools of higher grade. The boards of supervisors of the several counties, and the councils of the several cities, and towns if the same be separate school districts, shall provide for the levy and collection of such local school taxes.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of amendments proposed to the Constitution and agreed to by the General Assembly of Virginia, session 1918, and the same is published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act of the General Assembly, approved February 3, 1908.

SHOPMEN SIGN AGREEMENT

Contract to Remain in Force While U. S. Controls Railroads

Washington, Sept. 30.—Changes in the wage scale of railroad shopmen, under which they will be paid on the basis of an eight hour day similar to members of the four brotherhoods, are embodied in the first national agreement covering their wages and working conditions, which, it was learned yesterday, has been signed by Director-General Hines and representatives of the six international shop crafts. The changes mean an increase of 4 cents an hour and were ordered by President Wilson, to put the shopmen on an equal footing with other employes in the matter of an eight-hour day, at the same time he refused any general wage increase as requested.

The agreement, effective October 20 until the Government relinquishes control of the roads, is the first contract covering all railroad shop employes Heretofore each road has had its individual agreement with the unions, varying in important particulars. Union officials regarded the uniform contract as one of the most important gains made by labor in recent years.

SHIPYARD MEN TO WAIT

Drastic Action Not Expected Until After Industrial Parley

Washington, Sept. 30.—Although no definite statement was forthcoming, following an all day conference here yesterday of the executives of 15 international unions having members in the shipbuilding industry, the consensus of opinion expressed was that the workers would take no drastic action to enforce their demands for repeal of the prohibitory wage increase order until after the industrial conference called by President Wilson for October 6.

The meeting yesterday was preliminary to a conference tomorrow between representatives of the shipyard employes and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt and Director General Ackerson, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. The workers discussed the demands which will be made and appointed a committee of seven to confer with the Government officials. James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor who presided, said that all plans discussed were contingent on the outcome of today's conference.

PUBLIC SALE

Under and by virtue of authority vested in the undersigned by deed of assignment, dated September 22, 1919, by C. G. Leary, and wife, and P. H. Leary, and duly recorded among the land records of Prince William County, Virginia. I will offer for sale at public auction on

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10th, 1919,

beginning at 11 o'clock a. m., in the town of Quantico, Virginia, in Prince William County, the following property:

One lot of land, being lot 22, in block 13, section A, of the plat of Quantico, which lot is 25 feet by 110 feet, fronting on Potomac Avenue, together with the two-story, frame store building thereon. This building contains large store room in front, and a ware room and three living rooms in rear, has nine bed rooms and bath upstairs, entire building is 23 by 75 feet, and has water system complete, and private lighting plant. Entire outside and inside and the store outside and inside and the store room and ware room are now being used as store. Rooms upstairs and down now renting for $130 per month.

Also the entire stock of goods, wares and merchandise contained in the said store, together with all fixtures, an inventory of which shows a value of about $6,000. Not a cent's worth of this stock is dead stock, all in good condition.

Building will be sold subject to November 1st, 1919, or tenant will remain at option of purchaser. Immediate delivery of possession of all other property.

Terms of Sale. The lot and building will be sold first, then the stock of goods in bulk separate, and then both together, the most advantageous bid being accepted.

Cash for entire stock of goods and fixtures. One-half cash for lot and building, remainder in three equal payments in six twelve and eighteen months, evidenced by interest bearing notes, secured by deed of trust upon the property, or terms of all cash at the option of the purchaser.

The inventory of this stock of goods or the stock of goods and the building and premises, will be shown to any prospective purchaser upon application to the undersigned trustee. For any further information apply to the undersigned.

EXCITEMENT SUBSIDES

Omaha Quiet After Recent Turbulent Scenes

Omaha, Sept. 30.—One thousand troops patrolled the streets of Omaha last night following a night and day of racial fighting in which two members of a mob were killed, one negro hanged for assault upon a white girl, Mayor Smith badly beaten when they tried to quell the acts of disorder. One thousand more troops under General Leonard Wood will arrive today.

Out on the north side of the city, where 10,000 negroes live, eighteen machine guns are banked at Twenty fourth and Lake street. Seven hundred soldier with gleaming bayonets were guarding the negro settlement to keep negroes in and to keep the whites out.

High above the improvised station floats an observation balloon Lookouts in its basket are watching for fires which authorities fear may be started by whites or blacks. Negroes are armed and have a plentiful supply of shells. Their leaders say they will fight to protect their homes if they are attacked, but that they will make no attacks themselve.

Agnes Lobeck, the girl who was attacked, is moewhat more calm.

Sunday night when the mob was at its work, the young girl became hysterical. When notified that the negro had been hanged she fainted.

"I am glad he has been punished, but it was terrible that so many other men had to suffer," she said. "There is no doubt, but that he was the man. I recognized him the minute the police brought him in. I recognized his voice when he spoke and asked for a fair trial. He was the man. I am glad he has been punished."

TRAPPED IN SWAMP

Farmers Surround Fugitive Threatening to Shot on Sight

Mount Holly, N. J., epit. 30.—Leaving their farming implements in the field, like the minute men of old, grasping shotguns and rifles, more than 500 farmers from the section of New Jersey between Mount Holly and Merchantville yesterday formed a posse and searched the surrounding country for a negro who had attacked a woman on a lonely road near Merchantville.

Late last night they had succeeded in surrounding the fugitive in a swamp near Hainesport, two miles from here, and a long vigil till morning was taken up. The search will be resumed today.

Openly threatening to shoot the negro on sight, groups of two and three of the posse are sitting along the road which border the swamp, each with rifle across his knees. Threats of lynching also are heard, and it is feared that the few county detectives who are aiding in the search will have great difficulty in saving the man's life should he be forced to give himself up through hunger and cold.

The woman attacked by the negro is Mrs. Mary Notsey, who lives about five miles east of Merchantville. Early Sunday morning she was on her way to Merchantville to take a car to her place of employment in Camden when the negro leaped from a wagon and attacked her.

Hearing groans coming from the road side some time later, William Cole, a farmer who lives near-by went to investigate. He saw the form of a man hurry from the bushes and fire two shots in his direction. Later he found Mrs. Notsey in an unconscious condition and sent her to Cooper Hospital, Camden.

COMBAT STRIKES

Motor Traction Service Relieves Situation in England

London, Sept. 30.—Government measures to combat the national strike of railway workers were meeting with partial success. The general situation had improved. The government had effected a thorough motor traction system, operating in all parts of the country and there seemed to be little likelihood of a hunger pinch even if the strike continues for weeks and receives the support of the transport workers.

The attitude of the public is helping the government. The self-sacrificing spirit of war time has returned to Great Britain. The population remains calm, despite inconveniences and is co-operating loyally with government officials. Appeals for assitance in the distribution of food are meeting generous response.

An airplane mail service to the continent was inaugurated today, a number of machines leaving with official mails for Holland, Belgium, and France. Passenger machines are plying between Manchester, Leeds and Newcastle.

RAISULI'S BAND DEFEATED

Madrid, Sept. 30.—The forces of the bandit Raisuli, who has been in rebellion against the Spanish autiorities in Morocco, were completely defeated in an all-day engagement Saturday, according to dispatches from Morocco received by the newspaper El Dia. Artillery and airplanes were used effectively by the Spanish forces Le Fondak, Raisuli's habitual headquarters, is reported to have been occupied by Spanish troops.

Newspaper dispatches from Morocco state that in the recent action in which native police in the Spanish service rebelled and went over to Raisuli, a Spanish captain, three other officers and nineteen Spanish soldiers were killed.

Another message reports that the railroad between Tetuan and Ceuta, along the Mediterranean to the south of the Straits of Gibraltar has been cut by the Moors.

Twelve officers and five soldiers were killed when a detachment of police fell into ambush in Morocco recently, according to dispatches received from the Spanish high commissioner in that country. A part of the detachment is reported to have deserted but it is added that these were nativ recruits.

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION

His Breakdown More Serious Than at First Reported

Washington, Sept. 30.—The condition of President Wilson has not been exaggerated in any sense in the earlier reports of his illness. As a matter of fact the breakdown he has suffered is perhaps more serious than has been stated, and has caused more apprehension on the part of those within his intimate circle than appearance have indicated.

There has been a nervous breakdown and a physical collapse which have completely unmanned him and which have excited the gravest fears on the part of those who have attended him and watched the fight between the man of strong will and nature fight which nine time out of ten sults in the surrender of the man.

Disturbing and distressing as is President's condition, he has remarkable recuperative powers, a fact which Admiral Grayson is relying upon to pull his patient through the present sickness. And slow as the process of recovery may be, there already are encouraging signs and good reason to hope that with proper treatment and complete removal from official duties he will get entirely well.

President Wilson was described as slightly better in an official bulletin issued at 10 o'clock last night by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician.

BAN TO BE LIFTED

New York, Sept. 30.—Demobilization will be proclaimed by President Wilson and the war time ban on intoxicants will be lifted in seven days, New York liquor dealers have been informed, it was said here last night.

Huge quantities of whisky are arriving daily at the bonded warehouses and distillery wholesalers, cafes and hotels, acting on this advice, are preparing for a huge business.

THEATRES

"God's Outlaw" the powerful Metro drama with Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, will be at the Richmond Theatre today.

The play tells the story of a man who, through the loss of the girl he loved and the death of his mother whom he adored, believes that the hand of God is against him. He forswears his religion, and leaves the home of his childhood to forget his unhappiness. He goes to a remote village where he begins life anew, he is loved by all, but is known as God's outlaw. It is a play of intense and gripping moments lightened by winsome romance. The happy climax is one which shows that however great the depths of despair may be love is a ladder that reaches to the pinnacles of happiness and sunshine.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Sare Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
